THE
LAKESIDE NUMIDIAN 1967

ROBERT H. SPOCK

This man is truly outstanding, a success in his chosen field. He conducts his classes in a warm, relaxed atmosphere; however, you are always aware that he securely holds the reins of discipline. No matter how many demands there are on his time, his willingness to listen, and, what is more important, to extend the hand of sincere friendship, has endeared him to the heart of every boy who has had the privilege of knowing him. It is with particular pleasure that we, the Class of 1967, dedicate the NUMIDIAN to Robert H. Spock.

1987

The year is 1987, the scene is an exotic Tahitian port. We see two beautiful privately owned yachts docked side by side. Providence has it that the owners of each (surrounded by hordes of beautiful women) happen to meet on the dock. Their conversation goes as follows:

"Say, aren't you Steve Heard, class of '67 at Lakeside?"

"Why yes," the other fellow replies, removing his sunglasses, "and you're Richard Neill."

And so the old acquaintances begin discussing old times and old classmates. It seems that the class of '67 had a reunion just a month previous. Mr. Neill then recounts to Mr. Heard, who was unable to attend because of business in the South Seas, the news of his former classmates:

"Nelson is the author of the best-seller How To Talk and Make Sense. Seyfried is now playing organ for Paul Revere and the Raiders. Aside from being president of the Nathan Hale Fan Club, Borish has gone into business making American flags. Plate has taken Mr. Bauer's place, while Knopp has become Mr. Siebert's right-hand man. Unfortunately, Perry committed suicide because he couldn't think of anything else to say. Dariotis has become a 97-pound weakling and now runs a pig farm. Docter has become a comedian; after all, his jokes always have been funny. Holman is a tailor in a shop that deals exclusively with tightening pants. Wicklund was electrocuted during an experiment in which he tried to turn Wedgwood into a computer. Bangert was murdered by the Numidian staff shortly after graduation.

"Figuring he has what it takes, Haynes has become a disc-jockey. Bean is now a box-boy at Bartell's. We haven't heard from Bennett mainly because we never did. Glenn has become successful in the cranberry business now that his berries have finally blossomed. Countryman has just released his full-length novel Who's Who in Sun Valley. Mechem is now an obstetrician in Black Diamond. Putting his education to use, Easton has become a migrant worker. Reynolds runs a brewery on Queen Anne Hill. Friedlander won a national beard-growing contest in which he received a trophy from Weisfields. Hall now owns Parkers. Sievers is a cub reporter for a Mexican newspaper, The Daily Bean-er. Much to everyone's grief, DeMarsh's head was torn off when his sideburns got caught in the wire-wheels of his M.G. Tucker owns a tree farm. He makes sure he sells all his trees before they reach four feet high. Sice-loff is married and lives in a truck. Alexander has broken all ties with his patriotic friend and now devotes full time to collecting band cards.

"Scribner is now Headmaster of Helen Bush even though his office is in Chicago. After running the mile in 3:50, Caldwell retired from his athletic career and is now mayor of Falls City. Carruthers is a tree surgeon since his main interest always has been oaks. Treadgold has become a Mormon convert with three wives. Ken-naugh has cornered the tropical fish market and lives in an aquarium. Kamihachi is a Kamikaze pilot. 'Happy Randings, Slatch!' Clise is a volunteer fireman. Campbell is still trying to keep order in the senior study room. Presently a member of the F.B.I., Kerns is still working on the missing gas cap caper. Dwight has become dean of Harvard's English department but still manages to come out West to celebrate New Year's on Bainbridge. Two of the old boys have left the country. Brown has bought a castle in Germany and is living in his own world, while Backus has returned to Crete and has married Bouboulina. Stipek has become a model for Breck. Upset with the nation's racial problems, Banks decided to become a priest. He still swims a lot though. Hazen is still football manager at Lakeside. Mastro went back to the old country and took his friends with him: Mr. Davis, Doc Naiden, and Siceloff. Watson is a professional skier who's major competition is trees. Douglas owns a tailor shop on Blakely Island. After graduation, Jacobi got married and purchased a farm, where he is developing a better class of bull. Being one who always liked trucks, Sundberg has gone into the pick-up business. Rooks has assembled an army and is defending the San Juan Islands. Coombs went back to Lakeside to coach club activities. Johnson moved back to Dallas and shares an apartment with the Hawk and Fritz. Oh, by the way, two more members of our class were killed. Weeks died of a stroke and Barrett was stoned to death. His last words were 'Rock on.' Seligmann has become a famed actor. He made his debut playing the lead role in Cyrano de Bergerac. Oh, and last but not least, Waddell at one time modeled athletic equipment for himself as well as audiences, but since then . . . what can we say?"

"By the way," said Heard, "I read an Alumni Bulletin once. I guess Don Jorg is now headmaster. Mr. Eiseman is the author of the censored version of My Favorite Jokes. Unfortunately, one of Lakeside's English teachers mysteriously disappeared one Thanksgiving. Mr. Davis runs a slave labor camp on the San Juan Islands. Oh - and Mr. Thiel still gets his ascots at Gary's Closet. Brokaw wrote a book that was so ridiculous (among other things) that no one would publish it. Speaking of ridiculous, what about Hooper and Fleisher?"

"What about them?"

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT

"Having come from across the seas to America, I did not find all the things I expected to find. On the other hand, many new aspects which I have never thought of surprised me again and again (like hamburgers, for example). I never knew how good it would be to be able to drive at 16, especially if one takes dates out quite frequently. Who likes to be picked up by his parents after a nice party?

"I love Lakeside as much as I love America. I quickly felt completely at home at Lakeside. Of course, for a German it is difficult to adjust to the long school day, but it is still possible to do so.

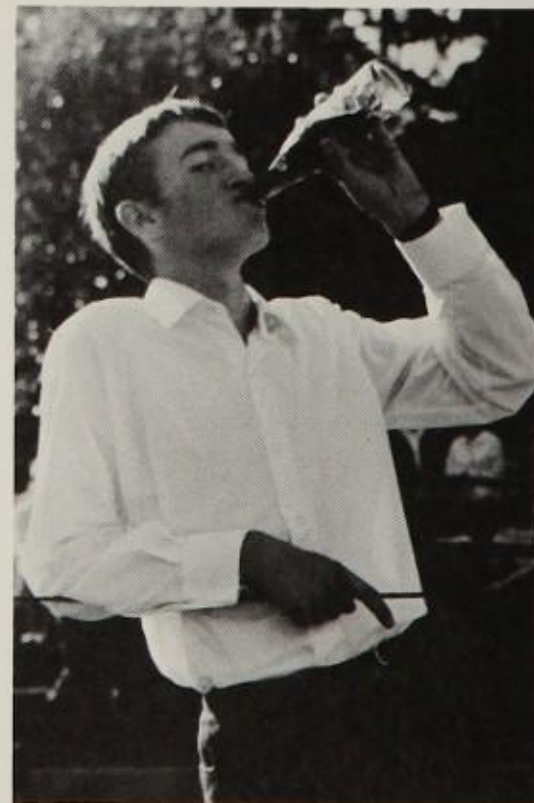

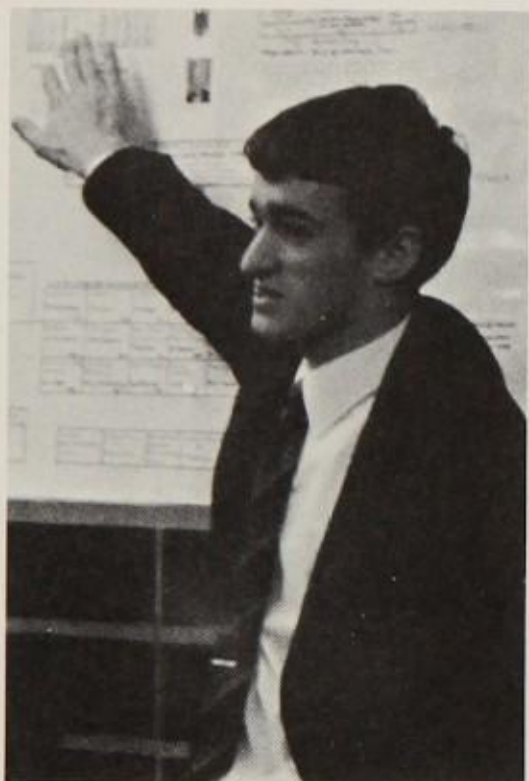

"On the whole I like the American educational system which - as a matter of fact - allows room also for private schools. They give those young people who really want to work a chance to develop their talents in the best way.

"Because of a change in the German School system and the importance of the final examination, for which Germans work from the first grade, I am forced to take this year over when I go back to Germany. I lost a year in my school life, but I gained many useful experiences for my later life.

"I enjoyed my stay in the USA, in Seattle, and at Lakeside. It is not hard for me to leave this country because I know that I will come back some day. So I just leave all of my friends with the two words,

'See you!'
